DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to the Application filed 31 August 2001.

Claims 1-6 have been examined in this case.

Priority

2. Applicant's claim for domestic priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) is acknowledged.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statements (IDS) submitted on 30 August 2002, 19 June 2003, and 22 September 2003 are in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the examiner is considering the information disclosure statements.

Specification

4. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ericsson (WO 00/25527) in view of Garg et al (US 6,453,346B1).

7. Regarding claims 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 –

Art Unit: 3621

Ericsson discloses a method for organizing alerts into alert classes, both the alerts and alert classes having a plurality of features, the method comprising the steps of: receiving a new alert (e.g. p. 5 ln 24 – 28); identifying a set of potentially similar features shared by the new alert and one or more existing alert classes (e.g. p. 5 ln 24 – pg. 6 ln 5); updating a minimum similarity requirement for one or more features (e.g. p. 5 ln 24 – 28); updating a similarity expectation for one or more features (e.g. p. 6 ln 5-22); comparing the new alert with one or more alert classes (e.g. p.; 6 ln 23 – 31); and either: associating the new alert with the existing alert class that the new alert most closely matches; or defining a new alert class that is associated with the new alert (e.g. p. 7 ln 12-24).

8. Regarding claim 2 –

Ericsson does not disclose the limitations of claim 2. Garg, however, discloses the method comprising the step (a1) of passing each existing alert class through a transition model to generate a new prior belief state for each alert class (col 1 ln 61 – col 2 ln 35).

9. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teachings of Ericsson and Gar in order to obtain greater efficiency in the management of alerts.

10. Examiner's note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant.

Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings in the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may be applied as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant, in preparing the responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the examiner.
